Professional Advice Centre at HOSPACE 2017

HOSPACE 2017 sees the introduction of the Professional Advice Centre. An opportunity for accountants, legal professionals, property experts and banks plus a range of consultants and industry bodies to assist the HOSPACE delegates with their queries.

This area will provide your company with the opportunity to promote your services to the HOSPACE delegates and offer introductory advice. The area will be busy with HOSPACE delegates looking for the opportunity to seek advice from experts and form new relationships with these advisors. There will be many chances to engage in conversation with both existing clients and new contacts coupled with the chance to increase awareness of your brand.

Each Professional Advice Centre participating company will have the opportunity to promote their particular expertise within the delegate pack and the delegate app. There will also be a guide of each Professional Advice Centre participant on the floor plan.

HOSPA will provide a branded consulting table for one consultant from each participating company, so no need for exhibition equipment, other than PC's and brochures normally used in client meetings.

HOSPA will encourage delegates to pre-book a 10 minute 1:1 session with the advisors enabling the professionals the opportunity to gather some background information. There will also be plenty of opportunity for ad-hoc meetings on the day.

The cost for the table-top consulting will be £750 + VAT, and will include a day delegate pass for one advisor and the branding opportunities. Refreshments will be available all day. Additional delegate passes may be purchased at the reduced members rates. Awards dinner tickets may also be purchased separately.
